What does SFI and FSC Chain of Custody Forestry Certification mean?

Certification guarantees that the fiber used to produce paper has been harvested from a properly managed forest. Responsible paper procurement is currently the major concern for environmentally-friendly printing and Wisco is required to adhere to strict, widely accepted standards to obtain and maintain our certification. We support socially and environmentally responsible forest management and will continually search for additional eco-friendly methods of manufacturing and delivery of our products to market.

Certifications for our paper

As part of our stewardship efforts, Wisco Envelope is active with two of the largest forest certification programs.

Sustainable Forestry Initiative

The Sustainable Forestry Initiative (SFI) program is based on the premise that responsible environmental behavior and sound business decisions can co-exist to the benefit of landowners, manufacturers, shareholders, customers, the people they serve, the environment and future generations. The SFI program integrates the perpetual growing and harvesting of trees with the protection of wildlife, plants, soil, water and air quality. For more information visit www.sfiprogram.org
